MONDAYS WITH MICHELLE OBAMA

This virtual story time is part of Penguin Random House's literacy initiative, "Read Together. Be Together" and PBS KIDS' "Read-Along" effort on Facebook and YouTube.

Both initiatives encourage parents and kids to read together, and have adjusted to these unprecedented times by offering virtual tools and digital events during stay-at-home orders.

Each of Mrs. Obama's read-alongs will be simultaneously live-streamed on the PBS KIDS' Facebook page and YouTube channel, and on Penguin Random House's Facebook page.

LUNCH DOODLES WITH MO WILLEMS!

On March 16, Mo Willems began posting "Lunch Doodles" at 1 pm each weekday on the Kennedy Center Website.

For about 30 minutes, he talks with children from his Massachusetts studio, shows them his supplies and his drawing archives, and answers their emails.

Willems then gives a brief "doodle" lesson, usually based on one of his picturebook characters.

The daily Lunch Doodles are streamed on YouTube for kids facing months of school closings to return to again and again.

JR. NBA AT HOME

As recommended by public health officials and infectious disease specialists, social distancing is a critical way to minimize the spread of coronavirus, however we also recognize that staying home for an extended period can be difficult.

As part of NBA Together, we launched "Jr. NBA at Home," an interactive content series providing basketball skills and drills featuring NBA and WNBA players that can be completed individually and in limited space to help young players around the world stay active and develop their game in a safe and healthy way.

The initiative will include a series of daily posts on Jr. NBA social channels (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram) and NBA digital properties around the world that provide drills, activities and instruction to promote skill development, physical activity and character development.
